Votes for Women the Topio of the Hour-Town Meeting to Consider Schoolhouse Addition Promises to Be Lively.

The principal topic of conversation in town the past week has been Votes for Women. A meeting in the interest of equal suffrage was held on Wednesday evening in Union hall under the auspices of the Connecticut Equal Suffrage association. The meeting was quite well attended, about 200 being present. Miss Emily Pierson of Cromwell, Conn., Miss Anne Forsyth of New York and Miss Josephine McLaughlin of New London were the speakers and presented their views in an able and entertaining manner. an able and entertaining manner. Those present expressed their pleasure in rounds of applause at the close of each speech. At the close of the meeting a number signed the membership circular.

Addition to School Needed. On Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock a town meeting will be held in Union hall to consider the matter of an addition to the schoolhouse and make alterations therein in order to comply with the requirements of the state board of education. Unless these re-quirements are met the state will withhold the amount due this town for withhold the amount due this town for school purposes from the state. This amount is large enough to pay the salaries of the teaching staff of the school. PLAYGROUND AND TEA GARDEN. Third Season of This Unique Work Will Achieve Larger Results Than

The North Stonington playground opened its third season July 8 under very auspicious conditions, 29 children being in attendance. Dr. E. R. Butler of Brooklyn, N. Y., who was present as a visitor, warmly commended the enterprise and made a generous dona-tion toward carrying on the work.

It is this playground, unique and almost without a parallel, which under the title of A Playground in the Vil-lage: How One Was Started and Made a Success, is described in the July number of the Ladies' Home Journal. The work as therein outlined is given hearty endorsement by the editor of that practical and progressive magazine.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen C. Williams Entertain Eastern Star Members-Delightful Day Spent by 75-Person-

James L. Raymond of Hadlyme was business caller at Buena Vista Mon-

Fidelity chapter, No. 54, Order of Eastern Star, held a pionic July 18 at Brother Owen Williams' farm, Water-ford. The jolly company of 75 was conveyed by teams to the splendid farm: everyone participated in making the chowder, which with salads, coffee, sandwiches and fruit, was served at noon. Music and games made the time pass all too quickly. A little folks' race, fat woman's race and bean-A. little bag race were run and prizes given. In the evening several brothers came, and a fine supper was served. A de-lightful outing is always afforded the members with Brother and Sister Wil-liams, who are past masters in entertaining. The gathering broke up with unanimous expressions of thanks for the excellent hospitality and good the excellent cheer, hoping that many more similar occasions may be enjoyed.
